Keeping Nillumbik Kids in School

Keeping Nillumbik Kids in School provides financial assistance to children, young people and their families to meet the additional costs associated with attending school.

The Keeping Nillumbik Kids in School (KNKIS) story

Every year young people and their families struggle to meet the additional costs associated with schooling such as camps, uniforms, text books and more.

In the last 2 years, KNKIS has given out over $5,000 to help many Nillumbik families fund these additional costs through their schools.

"It is an important way of assisting young people to stay engaged in education at a grass roots level."

Vice-Principal of Diamond Valley Secondary College

"The mother of the boy who is the recipient of the donation was delighted and extremely grateful."
